Bandbo.com launches Bandbo Nights Music Showcase

Bandbo.com, the lower mid-Atlantic's fastest growing local music site, has launched Bandbo Nights Music Showcase to give musicians an additional outlet to promote their music.

Since Bandbo Nights start on October 5th it has continued to grow rapidly with new audiences and musicians. The showcase, which is held at Lupo's in Fairfax every Tuesday Night, is hosted by Tim Cahill. Cahill is a veteran musician of the DC area who has collaborated with Ben Osterhaus (Bandbo founder) on the music side for many years now leads this division of Bandbo.

Bandbo Nights' mission is to bring a music showcase to a different venue each night of the week. Bandbo.com operates in Washington, DC, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia and the goal is to have a showcase in the major cities within these states.

Bandbo wants to take it's online community a step further and offer musicians and music lovers face-time with the people they interact with on bandbo.com. Recognizing that online promotion only goes so far, Bandbo saw the need to offer musicians a stage to perform on and ears to listen. Welcome to Bandbo Nights Music Showcase.

Bandbo.com is revolutionizing the local music scene. Permission is granted to use material on this release. Ben Osterhaus is available for interviews. Visit www.bandbo.com.
